

Edina Resource Center 952.848.3936

We are your connection to community information, resources & services

The Edina Resource Center is a collaborative effort between the Edina Public Schools, the City of Edina and the community. Our purpose is to initiate an innovative, collaboration of city, school, county public health, private agencies, health professionals and citizens to connect families and individuals – at the local level – to the services and supports they need. We have created “one-stop” shopping for the right piece of information, service provider or community support.

Systems Change:

- Improve access to appropriate and timely services and other supports for families and individuals
- Increase the incidence of addressing concerns early & reduce costly late intervention
- Improve coordination of appropriate supports for families and individuals dealing with multiple issues and organizations
- Strengthen families informal support systems
- Improve cost effectiveness & increase efficiency of human services

Long-term family outcomes:

- Improved school performance of those students served
- Improved socialization for those students served
- Improved family functioning for those families served
- Increased economic self-sufficiency & stabilization for those families & individuals served

What makes us unique:

- Strength-based approach to individuals and families
- Agency and partner donated staff. People are served by professionals in a professional manner.
- A comprehensive combination of information, services and supports – both formal and informal
- A large, up-to-date, database of information
- Personal follow-up with clients to provide a human approach to serving people
- Free, confidential and respectful service